Cheap Thrills

The Intuition boutique in Los Angeles is known for its superchic stuff—not superlow prices. (Hey, that's showbiz.) Head to Target to check out the shop owner's new line of cool, colorful, amazingly affordable accessories, Hollywood Intuition. Prices range from $3 (for a set of three headbands) to $30.

IN-JEAN-IOUS

Style expert Stacy London from TLC's What Not to Wear knows a keeper pair of jeans when she sees one—and she likes Riders by Lee. The denim has a flattering, comfy stretch to it and some of the designs come with discreet tummy-control panels.

All versions cost $20 or less; sizes go up to 18. Some plus sizes are also available.

Green with Envy

When it comes to nail polish, I'm game for anything—worst comes to worst, I grab a bottle of remover and that's that. But this deep army green color went the distance, looking great for more than a week and netting me a ton of compliments. A few fellow staffers tried it too, and I can now confidently say that fall's hippest hue looks good on everyone. Orly Nail Polish in Enchanted Forest, $7.50

OUTTA SITE

Find your perfect match—makeup and more—in just a few clicks with some fun URLs for beauty-obsessives like us. It's way more entertaining than looking up old high school boyfriends, for real!

→ janeiredale.com/makeover_room.html Create an online model with your coloring, then experiment with foundation and eyeliner.

→ opi.com You can apply over 200 shades of nail color to a hand with your skin tone and tip length.
